

TASTE the high life

The Mornington Peninsula's Willow Creek Vineyard together with Vue de monde present an unforgettable food and wine experience. Hosted by renowned wine expert Nick Stock at the award-winning restaurant's decadent new location, level 55, Rialto Tower, it's sure to be an evening to savour!

Celebrate the wonders of fine food and wine with a night out at Vue de monde's spectacular new venue, situated on Level 55 of the Rialto Tower in Melbourne. Boasting magnificent views and luxury furnishings, this sophisticated venue is the perfect place to enjoy Willow Creek Vineyard's premium range of cool-climate wines.

MEET THE WOMAN BEHIND THE WINE

Willow Creek winemaker Geraldine McFaul has been crafting wines on the Mornington Peninsula for 15 years. Gerry is dedicated to producing exceptional, cool-climate wines and to further developing her penchant for pinot noir. Enticed by the chance to work in a winery that offers access to some of the peninsula's oldest vines, Gerry joined the Willow Creek team in 2008 and will present her first Willow Creek wines at this exciting event.

VUE DE MONDE, LEVEL 55

Backed by owner Shannon Bennett's innovative vision and flair for modern French cuisine, Vue de monde enjoys a solid reputation for being one of Melbourne's most exceptional dining destinations. On this special occasion, head chef Cory Campbell and his team at Vue de monde have created a sensational four-course menu perfectly paired with Willow Creek wines. The restaurant's recent move to level 55 of the Rialto Tower allows Campbell to indulge your senses in a unique designer setting that features large dining tables, striking artwork, custom-made lighting, and beautiful views of Mount Macedon.
